Our Philosophy

Individuals with acquired brain injury (ABI) face obstacles that people with other types of injuries do not. Often, they have physical challenges associated with their accident. But they also deal with cognitive and emotional issues that can be lifelong. Resilience is the ability to withstand or recover from difficult conditions. This sentiment of our company name is at the core of our philosophy. Our goal at Resilient Life Care (RLC) is to assist all our residents to thrive in an otherwise overwhelming life situation. We believe that "Approaching Life with Purpose" means that our residents deserve a life that is active and meaningful. We seek to support them to remain healthy, have positive relationships and experience community. People thrive in a living environment where they are accepted, challenged and supported.

Our Services

Individuals with ABI require specialized services that most long-term care facilities do not offer. As innovators in brain injury, we address neurobehavioral issues and provide proactive management of an individual's needs.

- Individualized treatment and group therapy
- Case management
- Healthy meal planning
- Community integration
- Supervision by well-trained staff
- Recreation and leisure activities
- Exercise activities
- Computer learning
- Community and in-house therapy available

Who We Serve

We serve adults with acquired brain injury who are medically stable, are not a danger to themselves or others and have potential to interact with their community.

One of the biggest challenges for individuals with ABI is loss of community. This can create the feeling of isolation and depression. For lifelong health, it is important to have a sense of purpose and belonging.
